Sivanand Ashram caters to the cultural needs of all ranks of people, to whatever class they may belong. The holy river Ganges flows by the side of the Ashram, coming down from Himalayas. Just as there is a Government in all countries to maintain law and order, there is also an inner Government to maintain law and order within ourselves. The Sivanand Ashram has the same belief and conteinously working on making visitors believe in their spirituality. The Ashram works on the creative aspect of the Divinity within man.

Ram Jhoola

Ram Jhula is an iron suspension bridge situated at Muni Ki Reti in Rishikesh. It is a connecting bridge between Swargadham, Gita Bhawan and other temples. Built in the 1980s, over the Ganges to cross the river and is also a landmark for city of Rishikesh. Ram jhula is located 3 kilometres north to Rishikesh where some of the Hindu ashrams and religious centers like The Gita Bhawan, and Swarg Ashram are located. Though similar in design, this bridge is bigger than its sibling bridge, Lakshman jhula. This bridge constructed above 59 feet from summer water level.

Geeta Ashram

Geeta Ashram is dedicated for the mythological awareness of the common people. Ashram encloses many paintings and statues of characters from Hindu Mythology. Ashram is neighbored by the banks of the holy river Ganges, amidst the Himalayan Mountains at Rishikesh. It consists of a very large complex. A large number of devotees visit and stay here for holy Ganges dip. During the summer months, day-long special programs are arranged for devotees.

Sacred bath at Harki-Pauri

On the banks of Ganga, Har Ki Pauri is the major pilgrimage attraction in Uttarakhand. This sacred ghat is extremely important as footprints of Lord Vishnu are found in here. Har Ki Pauri is a famous ghat on the banks of the Ganges and the major landmark of the holy city of Haridwar. Literally, "Har" means "Lord Shiva", "ki" means "of" and "pauri" means "steps". Lord Shiva and Lord Vishnu are believed to have visited the Har ki Paudi in the Vedic times. The ghat is on the west bank of Ganges canal through which river Ganges is diverted to the north. Har ki pauri is where thousands of pilgrims during the Kumbha Mela.

Mansa Devi Temple

Mansa Devi Temple is a Hindu temple dedicated to goddess Mansa Devi in the holy city of Haridwar. The temple is located on the Sivalik Hills, the southernmost mountain chain of the Himalayas. The temple is the holy abode of Manasa, a form of Shakti and is said to have emerged from the mind of the sage Kashyapa. Devotees who want their wishes to be fulfilled by Mansa tie threads to the branches of a tree located in the same temple. Once their wishes are fulfilled, people come back to untie the thread from the tree. Goddess Mansa is also offered coconuts, fruits, garlands and incense sticks by devotees. The Mansa Devi is a Siddh Peetha, a place of worship where desires get fulfilled.

Swarg Ashram

Swarg Ashram is a small township located 5 km away from Rishikesh, on the left bank of the Ganges. The ashram was built in the memory of Swami Vishudhanand. The township has many other ashrams, temples and caves, inhabited by saints, inside. Swargashram, which means Heavenly Adobe is a beautiful place situated in picturesque surroundings at the foot of Himalayas. The climate of the spots is splendid all the year. The chief aim in establishing this institution is to provide all facilities for spiritual benefit of all religious bent minds. The one who stay here, achieve a path of renunciation and devotion.

Laxman Jhoola

Lakshman Jhula is an iron suspension bridge situated in Rishikesh, Uttarakhand. Made over river Ganges to cross the river, Lakshman Jhula is a landmark of Rishikesh near to Ram Jhula. It is believed that Lakshman crossed Ganges on jute ropes between the places where this bridge is built. Lakshman Jhula was built in 1939, offering spectacular views from the bridge. Many temples and ashrams around ends of the bridge attract visitors from different corners of India.
