Cochin

Cochin, also known as Kochi is a major port city on the west coast by the Arabian Sea and is part of the district of Ernakulam. Kochi is often called by the name Ernakulam, which refers to the eastern part of the mainland Kochi and the statutory bodies that oversee its development are the Greater Cochin Development Authority. The city of Kochi is the most densely populated city in the Kerala, and is part of an extended metropolitan region. Kochi city is also a part of Greater Cochin and ranks first in the total number of international and domestic tourists in Kerala. Kochi has been ranked the sixth best tourist destination in India according to a survey conducted by the Outlook Traveller magazine.

Guruvayur

Guruvayur is a beautiful town in Thrissur and houses the famous Guruvayur Sree Krishna Temple, the fourth biggest temple in India in terms of the number of devotees coming to site. Guruvayur, according to the legends may be 5,000 years old as the temple idol. There are no historical records to establish, but in Tamil literature 'Kokasandesam', references about a place called Kuruvayur is made. As early as 16th century, many references are made about Kuruvayur. In ancient Dravidic, Kuruvai means sea hence the village on the coast might have been called Kuruvayur.

Munnar

Munnar is a hill station on the Western Ghats, a range of mountains situated in the Idukki, Kerala. The name Munnar is believed to mean "three rivers", referring to the town's strategic location at the confluence of the Madhurapuzha and Kundaly rivers. The nearest major railway stations to the place are at Ernakulam and Aluva while the nearest airport is Cochin International Airport, 105 kilometres away. Most of the native flora and fauna of Munnar continue to survive and thrive in several protected areas nearby, including the new Kurinjimala Sanctuary to the east. These protected areas are known for several threatened and endemic species such as Nilgiri Thar, the Grizzled Giant Squirrel and the Neelakurinji.

Thekkady

Thekkady is the location of the Periyar National Park, which is an important tourist attraction for South Indians. Situated in Kerala, close to the Kerala - Tamil Nadu border town - Kumily, it is located about 114 km from Madurai City, 185 km from Cochin International Airport and 114 km from Kottayam railway station. The sanctuary is famous for its dense evergreen, semi-evergreen, moist deciduous forests and savanna grass lands so as the home to herds of elephants, sambar, tigers, gaur, lion-tailed Macaques and Nilgiri Langurs. The Periyar Wildlife Sanctuary is spread across 777 km<sup>2</sup> and was declared a Tiger Reserve in 1978.

Alleppey

Alleppey is the administrative headquarters of Alappuzha District. This town is considered to be the oldest planned town in this region and the lighthouse built on the coast of the town. Alleppey is the sixth largest city in Kerala and is situated 62 kilometres to the south of Kochi and 155 kilometres north of Trivandrum. A town with picturesque canals, backwaters, beaches, and lagoons, is one of the places known as "Venice of the East" by Lord Curzon. Alleppey is an important tourist destination in India as it connects Kumarakom and Cochin towards north and Quilon to the South.
